

How To Read Through The Bible

Did you know that in less than 13 weeks (January-March) you could read through the entire New Testament? We challenge you to at least read through the New Testament during the first 100 days of this year. Many people start their "Through the Bible" effort with Genesis and give up somewhere in Leviticus. Start with the New Testament and it will be easier. You can read through the entire New Testament in less than 20 hours, that's less than an hour and a half per week – about 12 minutes a day!

Daily Readings

Bible reading is a great way to schedule time alone with God whether in the morning or the evening before going to bed. Each reading is about 3 chapters in length. You ought to be able to do it in less than a 1/2 hour. Discipline yourself to do it at the same time and place every day.

Sunday Readings

Sunday is make-up day. If you missed any reading or if you read only a few chapters per day make up for lost time by reading for an hour on the Lord's Day. You may even choose to make Sunday afternoon your entire Bible Reading Time. In three hours reading you can make up the entire week.

Reading Out Loud

Getting sleepy while reading the word is a common problem. One way to overcome the sleepiness is to read the Bible out loud. It can be whispered or in a loud voice. It helps. Try standing up and reading from a raised desk. It is harder to fall asleep while standing.

Listening Through the Bible

The Bible on Cassette tape is a great way to go through the Bible in a year. There are advantages to this kind of reading. 1) You can be involved in other things while listening - like jogging, walking, ironing, etc. 2) The pace is always the same, and the difficult words are pronounced for you.

Notebook in Hand

One of the drawbacks to listening to tapes is that you cannot mark your Bible while the reading is going on, unless you are accompanying it with your Bible open. Whether you listen or read the Bible through try keeping a journal of your reading either with a notebook handy while you read or marking in the margin of your Bible. As you search for promises to live by pay particular attention to Jesus' power over "all the work of the enemy." Wherever you are in the Bible there are things to pay special attention to. Nothing is so precious as to discover new and precious promises.
