Key Verses from the Psalms

Precious Truths, Promises & Prayers

What follows are what I have found to be significant verses among the 150 Psalms. These are certainly not all the important or significant verses, but they are a selection from my own meditation on the Scriptures. It must be noted that some of the Psalms are filled with significant and meaningful verses, but there are a few of the chapters that are difficult to glean any meaningful verses, but I have done my best for I believe that "ALL SCRIPTURE is given by inspiration of God and is PROFITABLE for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished unto good works." (2 Timothy 3:16-17)

The question for most people is what should we do with a list of verses like this? The answer is found in the Psalms themselves. "My meditation of him will be sweet." (Psalm 104:34) "But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law does he meditate day and night." (Psalm 1:2) "When I remember you upon my bed, and meditate on you in the night watches." (Psalm 63:6) "I will meditate also of all your work, and talk of your doings." (Psalm 77:12)

In our age of busyness and rushing about we often do not take time to think, to meditate, to process the Scriptures as we should. A cow not only feeds constantly but he takes time "to chew his cud," that is, he brings it back up to chew on it more throughout the day. We would do well to do the same with the bread of life, the word of God.

May I suggest you employ and discipline and strategy for reading and meditating through the Psalms? I recommend that you take one of these verses each day of the day and make it your meditation. Some of the verses you might want to do more than to think or meditate on them, but you could and should commit your favorites to memory. At the very least you should mark these verses in your own bible so that in future readings you will remember the Word of the Lord.

It is good to remember that that Psalms were often prayers put to music. They were songs and hymns sung to God. You may not be able to sing each Psalm but it is a good thing to at the very least say the verse or verses out loud, and pray the Scriptures back to God. That way the verse is not just information but inspiration for your prayer life.

May the Lord be present as you reflect on these Psalms each and every day.
